DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-12 of U.S. Application 09/867,634 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
  The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In particular, the last limitation of the independent claims is indefinite because of the term "prescribed relation".

Claim Interpretations

4. The broadest reasonable interpretation of the claim language has been give to the claims. It is interpreted that claims 5-6 and 11-12 refer to intended use. It is also interpreted that Applicants have admitted that limitations 1-2 of the independent claims and the intended use (structural analysis of pillars) are prior art. See pp. 1-3 (Related Background Art) of the specification. It is finally interpreted that the last limitation of the independent claims read on numerical convergence in a simulation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Application/Control Number: 09/867,634

Art Unit: 2128

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 6. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kashiwamura et al. or Applicant's Own Admission view of Amdursky et al.
- 7. Kasiwamura et al. disclose a design support method, including performance calculating and design variable determining (fig. 1, 12 and corresponding text) wherein the intended use is structural design of automobiles (line 2, col. 14 to line 45, col. 20).
- 8. Applicants have admitted that performance calculating and design variable determining where known in the art for structural design of automobiles (pp. 1-3, specification).
- 9. The base references do not expressly disclose the last limitation of the independent claims, as expressly recited. However, it is interpreted that the limitation reads on numerical convergence in a simulation.
- 10. Amdursky et al. disclose that iterative simulation techniques may suffer from convergence issues (See col. 2, lines 30-56), and discloses how to achieve convergence (lines 28-43, col. 5).
- 11. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the base references to take into the convergence issues because Amdursky et al. disclose that iterative simulation techniques may suffer from convergence issues (See col. 2, lines 30-56).
